REMARKS Century is probably best known for its "split-shaft" tapered candlestick. This phone , often painted in black, was also marketed as a Federal. These phones can be found with either or both names marked on its parts.

Century maintained its main factory in Buffalo as well as an branch factory in Bridgeburg, Ontario, Canada. Telephones manufactured in that factory had tags indicating that plant,

No. 65—TELEPHONE.

No. 75—TELEPHONE.
